About this course

Become a fully-fledged marketer with our top ranked Marketing MSc, and progress towards achieving a highly valued Chartered Institute of Marketing's (CIM) professional qualification.

Introduction

Please note, if you're applying for January 2027 entry, your course welcome starts on 25 January 2027. Teaching starts on the 1 February 2027.

The MSc in Marketing at the University of Liverpool offers a competitive edge with exemptions from CIM professional qualification modules and is ranked among the top 60 master's in marketing worldwide.

Designed for aspiring marketing professionals, the programme equips our students with strategic insight, practical skills, and real-world experience through case studies and collaborations with public and private sector organisations. Covering contemporary marketing issues such as data-driven strategies, consumer engagement, and campaign planning, the course also features guest lectures from industry experts.

Our graduates emerge as well-rounded, effective marketers capable of strategic decision-making and solving real-world marketing challenges, completing six modules and a final applied research project or dissertation.

Who is this course for?

If you have not previously studied marketing in great depth but want to pursue a marketing career, this is the ideal programme for you. This course is open to those who already hold a degree in any discipline and assumes no prior knowledge of marketing.

If you already hold a first degree in marketing we recommend you to consider the MSc Advanced Marketing instead.

Accreditation

The University of Liverpool Management School is one of an elite group of institutions worldwide to hold the gold standard 'triple-crown' accreditation from AACSB, AMBA and EQUIS.

Accreditation in detail

AACSB

AACSB Accreditation Standards require a high quality teaching environment, a commitment to continuous improvement, and curricula responsive to the needs of businesses. This achievement means that the Management School meets specific standards of excellence. It also means it's committed to on-going improvement in delivering high quality education.

AMBA

AMBA is the highest standard of achievement in postgraduate business education. MBA students and graduates, business schools and employers all recognise it as a gold standard. AMBA's rigorous criteria and assessment process ensure that only programmes that demonstrate the highest standards in teaching, learning and curriculum design; career development and employability; and student, alumni and employer interaction achieve accreditation.

CIM

Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM)

University of Liverpool has partnered with The Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM) to map the content of our BA Marketing, against their unique Professional Employability Criteria – a framework of behaviours, knowledges, and skills required of today's graduates.

CIM is the world's leading professional marketing body and by recognising that our BA Marketing maps to the body's recommended criteria, it ensures our students are best equipped to progress their knowledge and career.

Our BA Marketing programmes have exemptions from modules on the Level 4 Certificate in Professional Marketing and the modules on the Level 6 Diploma in Professional Marketing.

Our MSc Marketing course has a Graduate Gateway exemption from the Strategic Marketing module on the Level 6 professional qualification.

EQUIS

The School is also accredited by EQUIS, which is the leading international system of quality assessment, improvement and accreditation of higher education institutions in management and business administration. Institutions that are accredited by EQUIS must demonstrate not only high general quality in all dimensions of their activities, but also a high degree of internationalisation and corporate connections.

Teaching and assessment

How you'll learn

Our Marketing MSc is delivered via online material, lectures, tutorials, practical tasks, interactive activities, case studies and project work.

Lectures will provide you the main of concepts, principles and theories around data-driven marketing.

You will then apply what you have learned during the lectures in practical sessions focused on real-life case studies, involving group or individual work.

Following semester two, you will complete a dissertation with the support of an academic supervisor.

This final project will deepen your knowledge, understanding and capabilities by undertaking research in a distinct area of data-driven marketing.

Teaching time accounts for an average of 10 hours per week. However, you should anticipate an additional 24 hours of self-directed study and group work per week.

How you're assessed

To achieve your MSc qualification, you need to complete 180 credits:

- Semester One: three 20-credit modules (60 credits in total)
- Semester Two: three 20-credit modules (60 credits in total)
- Final project: 60 credits

You must pass all the modules with a minimum grade of 50%. Subject to meeting specific criteria outlined by the University, you will graduate with a Pass, Merit or Distinction.

Assessment tasks are varied, and some may be explicitly designed to meet the learning outcomes of a particular programme of study.

You can expect to be assessed via coursework, essay, group work, (video) presentations, case studies, infographics, reports and examinations.

The weighting of individual assessment components varies across modules. You will find detailed information of this in the module specification.

Pre-sessional English

Do you need to complete a Pre-sessional English course to meet the English language requirements for this course?

The length of Pre-sessional English course you'll need to take depends on your current level of English language ability.

Pre-sessional English in detail

If you don't meet our English language requirements, we can use your most recent IELTS score, or the equivalent score in selected other English language tests, to determine the length of Pre-sessional English course you require.

Use the table below to check the course length you're likely to require for your current English language ability and see whether the course is available on campus or online.

Your most recent IELTS score	Pre-sessional English course length	On campus or online
6.0 overall, with writing at 6.0 and no component below 5.5	6 weeks	On campus or online
5.5 overall, with writing at 5.5 and no component below 5.0	10 weeks	On campus or online
5.5 overall, with no more than one component at 5.0	12 weeks	Online
5.5 overall, with no component below 5.0	20 weeks	On campus
5.0 overall, with no more than one component at 4.5	30 weeks	On campus
4.5 overall, with no more than one component at 4.0	40 weeks	On campus

If you've completed an alternative English language test to IELTS, we may be able to use this to assess your English language ability and determine the Pre-sessional English course length you require.

Please see our guide to Pre-sessional English entry requirements for IELTS 6.5 overall, with no component below 6.0, for further details.
