2016 -2017 Confucius Institute Scholarship for Home Stay/Home Visit Four-Week Study in China

The purpose of this four-week “Confucius Institute Scholarship” programme is to provide British students, as well as teachers of Chinese language in the UK the opportunity of a four-week study and home stay /home visit experience in China, so that they can improve their Chinese language and experience Chinese culture. The programme is sponsored by Confucius Institute Headquarters (Hanban), in cooperation with 42 Chinese universities across China. The scholarship will cover tuition fees, accommodation fees, and comprehensive medical insurance expenses.

Application is open to applicants who are not Chinese citizen, aged between 18 and 35, in good health condition. Applicants should have studied in Liverpool Confucius Institute (or other Confucius Institutes), and should submit a HSK or BCT score report. Applicants should have no prior experience of studying in China. Currently the programme is available from October 2016 to summer 2018.
