

Workshop Programme
European nationalism resurgent in the 21st century
13th and 14th May, University of Liverpool

DAY 1: KEYNOTE LECTURE

13th May, 17:00-18:30; ROOM, CTH – Lecture Theatre C

Professor Erika Harris, University of Liverpool
Nationalism in Central and Eastern Europe: dilemmas and controversies

DAY 2: WORKSHOP

14th May, 10:00-16:00, Management School Seminar Room 4

Chatham Street, Liverpool, L69 7ZH

10:00 – 12:00 Panel I

Facilitator: Hannes Baumann

John Schwarzmantel, University of Leeds

Ethnos, demos and the nation: Erika Harris' contribution to the study of nationalism

Michiel Piersma, University of Liverpool

The present and future of Area Studies in Southeastern Europe

Oren Yiftachel, Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

TBC

Richard Gillespie, University of Liverpool

Ambiguous Nationalism as an Obstacle to Independence in Catalonia

12:00 – 13:30 Lunch break

13:30 – 15:30 Panel II

Facilitator: Gemma Bird

Dejan Jović, University of Zagreb

Reading Erika Harris: remarks on the relevance of her work for explanation of the contemporary Europe

Silvia Miháliková, Comenius University Bratislava

Slovakia - on the verge of isolation in Europe again? The decisive role of the political elites

István Pogany, Warwick University

Sighetul Marmației: Historical Memory and the Holocaust in Post-Communist Romania

Mate Subašić, University of Liverpool

'Wherever nation': Varieties of cross-border engagement in the Balkans

15:30-16:00 Closing remarks