Here are some of the worthy causes we’ve helped:

- Support of a number of sporting activities for students
- Contribution towards the purchase of the Liverpool Poets archive
- The purchase and refurbishment of original Waterhouse display cases
- Several projects run by the Educational Opportunities team to help the University’s widening participation activities which widen access to higher education.

Who are the Friends?

All sorts of people - people who studied at the University, current and retired staff of the University, and people who have no formal connection with the University but who are interested in it, believe it is good for the city, and value scholarship and research.

Why become a Friend?
Because you would like to be able to contribute to the life and work of the University and know that funding the 'extras' which can contribute to excellence is often difficult.

How much?
The annual subscription is only £10 - though many Friends give more - but small sums can make a big difference.

Becoming a Friend also entitles you to:
- The Friends newsletter twice a year
- The University’s alumni magazine insight
- The opportunity to attend social events and visits arranged exclusively for Friends
- Access to the University’s Art Collections
- Mailings about Continuing Education courses
- Gift Aid declaration – making the most of your gift

Who runs the Friends and how?
A committee meets four times a year to oversee the management of Friends affairs and finances, and to decide what grants to make. The Chancellor of the University is the President, the Vice-Chancellor is a Vice-President and the President of Guild is a committee member. An Annual General Meeting hears our committee report its work and elects representatives to it, as do Convocation and the University Council.

How much?
The annual subscription is only £10 - though many Friends give more - but small sums can make a big difference.

The Friends of the University of Liverpool may reclaim basic rate tax on all gifts, provided that you have paid an amount of UK income tax or capital gains tax equal to the tax we reclaim. This means that every £10 donated is worth £12.50, and the difference is paid by the Inland Revenue, at no cost to you. If you pay tax at the higher rate, then you may claim further tax relief on your self-assessment tax return – you also have the option to donate this additional tax relief to the Friends of the University of Liverpool.

I wish the University of Liverpool to treat this donation and all donations I make from the date of this declaration, until or unless I notify you otherwise, as Gift Aid donations.
