

Structural Reform of Banking Symposium 2015, London

University of Liverpool in London, 33 Finsbury Square, EC2A 1AG

Thursday, 2 July 2015, 10.00am – 3.30pm

Regulating Banking Structures: Perspectives and Implications

PROGRAMME

10.00

Registration

Welcome and Opening Comments

10.30

Structural Reform of Banking: A Global Challenge

Rosa Lastra

Professor, Queen Mary University of London, UK
Structural Reforms: A Comparative Perspective

Thierry Bonneau

Professor, Université Paris II Panthéon-Assas, France
France's Banking Separation Legislation

Jens-Hinrich Binder

Professor, Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen, Germany
Structural Bank Reform - A German Perspective

12.00

Lunch

13.15

The UK's Banking Reform Act 2013: Unpacking the Implications

Nigel Clayton

Lecturer in Law, City University London, UK
Part 4 of the Act 2013 and Bank Failures:
Substance is More Important than Structure?

Olufemi Amao

Lecturer in Law, Brunel University, UK
The 2013 Act's Implications for Directors' Duties and Remuneration

Ed Hyde

Director, Wealth and Investments Legal Team, Barclays, UK
Structural Reform and Redesigning Integrated Wealth
Management Services

Closing Remarks

Convener: Gerard Kelly, Lecturer and Attorney-at-Law, Liverpool Law School, University of Liverpool

To Register: <https://eventbrite.co.uk/event/17223125833>

Rachel Barrett, Liverpool Law School, Bedford Street South, Liverpool, L69 7ZA

Tel: +44 (0) 151 794 2302

Email: barrettr@liverpool.ac.uk