

What is the UK Parliament
UK Parliament, Government and devolved administrations
Who uses research at the UK Parliament
Select Committees; Libraries; POST; APPGs; MPs and Peers
Resources and support for you

What is the UK Parliament?

House of Lords

The Monarch

- Represents the people
- Checks and challenges the work of the Government (scrutiny)
- Makes and changes laws (legislation)

- Debates the important issues of the day (debating)
- Checks and approves Government spending (taxes and budgets)

- The party or parties who can command the confidence of the House of Commons forms the Government.
- The Government:
 - runs public departments

 (e.g. Home Office, Department for Education)
 - proposes new laws to the UK Parliament
 - is accountable to Parliament

Parliament ≠ Government

UK Parliament

- Commons, Lords and Monarch
- Holds Government to account
- Makes laws
- Enables the Government to raise and spend money

UK Government

- Some MPs and some Peers, chosen by the Prime Minister
- Runs Government departments and public services
- Is accountable to Parliament

Devolved administrations

Belfast

DublinoKIN

Northern Ireland Executive / Northern Ireland Assembly (Stormont)

'MLAs' = Members of the Legislative Assembly

Scottish Government / Scottish Parliament (Holyrood)

'MSP's = Members of the Scottish Parliament

Welsh Government / Senedd Cymru (Welsh Parliament) 'MSs' = Members of the Senedd

Since 1999

- Certain powers devolved (e.g. education or health)
- Certain powers reserved
 (e.g. UK defence or foreign policy)

Questions?

Who uses research in the UK Parliament?

House of Commons select committees

House of Lords select committees

Joint select committees

Legislation

House of Commons Library

House of Lords Library

POST

Individual MPs and their researchers

Individual Peers and their researchers

All Party Parliamentary Groups

Select committees

- Conduct inquiries and produce reports on a range of matters, from the conduct of Government to specialist subject areas
- Committees can be departmental (House of Commons) or more cross-cutting
- Invite evidence from witnesses
- Can employ subject specialists as specialist advisers, usually academics/expert practitioners

Select committees: getting involved

- Follow committees on Twitter, and/or sign up for email alerts via www.parliament.uk
- Submit written evidence to relevant inquiries (may lead to oral evidence)
- Apply for opportunities to be a specialist adviser
- Offer to host a visit for a select committee, or give a private briefing

Find a select committee relevant to your research

- Follow the link to an A-Z list of select committees.
- Look through the list and identify at least one relevant committee.

There may not be a committee obviously relevant to your research

Try and think about which policy area your research/expertise is most likely to fit into or influence.

Take a look at the range of inquiries from a potentially relevant committee, to get a sense of the scope of that committee.

You can also see all currently open calls for evidence, in order to browse by inquiry rather than by committee.

Commons and Lords Libraries

 Impartial information and briefing services for MPs, Peers, their staff, committees and staff of the Houses

 Produce a wide range of briefing material, available on dedicated websites for each Library

- House of Commons Library has subject specialists producing briefings
- Reactive and responsive to questions from Members, business in each House and current affairs
- Contact papers@parliament.uk, FAO subject specialist, 250 words maximum

POST

- Bridges research and policy to ensure that the best available research evidence feeds into the legislative process and scrutiny of Government, through:
 - Horizon scanning briefings (POSTnotes)
 - Reactive advice for Committees and Libraries (POSTbriefs)
 - Events
 - Knowledge Exchange (internal and external)
 - Academic fellowships

POSTNO!

Number 559 J

Online Information and Fake News

Digital technologies such as Internet search engines and social media platforms are an increasingly popular way of accessing news and information. This note considers how people access news online, how algorithms (sequences of instructions) and social networks influence the content that users see, and options for mitigating any negative impact.

Background

In 2017, the proportion of UK adults consuming news online exceeded those who watched news on TV (74% versus 60%). Maximitite, a smaller proportion read news in print (41%), compared to in 2013 (59%). ¹² Social media others: (70,000) and interest search engines can help in to find the items that they consider most interesting or by filtering content. Some suggest that filtering could set seeing only content that conferes to their pre-

vis. 14 Others argue that users still see more to for assample, via print, TV or radio. 17

vis. journalists and others have raised viton online, and the effect that it as elections. 14 This.

Overview

- Social media platforms and Internet sear engines have made it easier to produce, distribute and access information online.
- These technologies, combined with user behaviour, filter the content that users so Some studies suggest that this limits use exposure to attitude-challenging informal while others argue that users still see a wider range of information than offline.
- Online take news has the potential to confuse and deceive users, and is often financially or politically motivated.
- UK efforts to address these issues are largely led by industry and focus on take news. They include better identification, fact-checking and user education.

The Rauters Institute and Olizon found that the websit apps of TV and radio companies are the most popular source of ordine news in the UK. ^{1,16} For instance, 47% adults who accessed news online (surveyed in 2017) that they had used BBC News online in the past week. People are increasingly using social module to access in the UK. ^{2,17} 41% of adults soked in 2017 reported us as a source for news in the post week, up from 20% as a source for news in the post week, up from 20% of adults who accessed news online in 2018 divisionable engine, up from 18% in 2013. ^{3,18} Consess consumption may differ from advansalistic data is limited. ³

Social Media Platfo

POST: getting involved

- Sign up to the POST mailing list, and/or follow POST on Twitter: @POST_UK
- Look out for relevant POSTnotes being written and get in touch with the author to contribute
- Propose a topic for a POSTnote
- Attend an event
- Apply for a PhD or Academic Fellowship

All Party
Parliamentary Groups
(APPGs)

- Informal groups of MPs and Peers focused on subjects or countries
- Some meet regularly, hold events, produce reports and run inquiries
- Allow Members to:
 - develop their knowledge
 - meet other interested Members
 - show their interest
 - raise awareness on a topic

Full register of groups available on www.parliament.uk

Individual Members

- Parliamentary Questions: questions from MPs and Peers to the Government
- Debates: raised by MPs and Peers on issues related to the work of Government
- Legislative work
- Select committee work
- EDMs (Early Day Motions)

More questions?

Getting involved: some tips

- Look out for relevant select committee inquiries and submit evidence
- Offer to host a visit or briefing for a select committee
- Offer your expertise to the Commons/Lords Libraries
- Work with POST on briefings for Members
- Suggest a topic for a POSTnote to POST
- Apply for relevant Fellowship opportunities from POST
- Develop relationships with individual Members

More resources and support

Online resources and 'how to' guides:

www.parliament.uk/researchimpact

@UKParl_Research

Dedicated Knowledge Exchange Unit (Sarah, Naomi and Laura): keu@parliament.uk

Houses of Parliament Westminster SW1A 0AA keu@parliament.uk +44 (0)20 7219 2840 @UKParl_Research parliament.uk/research-impact