Welcome to our Postgraduate Open Event

This event is your chance to explore the exciting range of postgraduate study options we offer at Liverpool. We encourage you to attend talks and ask questions at our various exhibitions.

Central Teaching Laboratories (from 3pm)

The event starts in our Central Teaching Labs where our Student Support Exhibition will be open from 3pm. Make your way to a Welcome Desk to check in and pick up a guide. From there our friendly staff and Student Advocates will direct you to your relevant activity.

Faculty Information Fairs and Talks (from 4pm)

Our faculty activity will begin from 4pm, see faculty pages for specific start and finish times. Student Advocates and faculty colleagues will help you to get between the Central Teaching Labs and your subject-specific spaces. Find out where you'll be going below:

- Faculty of Health and Life Sciences:
Cedar House and Sherrington Building
- Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences:
502 Teaching Hub
- Faculty of Science and Engineering:
Central Teaching Labs.

If you need any help finding locations, there's a map on page 06. You can follow the signposting around campus, or ask one of our team to show you the way.

We're here to help.

"I decided to study a master's at Liverpool because I enjoyed my undergraduate degree here and I love the vibrant culture and warmth of Liverpool. The master's was instrumental to me in securing a PhD in Trials Methodology research at the University of Liverpool. Even if you're not sure about working in academia, a master's provides advanced knowledge which is often advantageous when applying for jobs, and can help guide future career choices if you're unsure about what you want to do following undergraduate study."
