Hello to all the guys, gals and non-binary pals who have stumbled upon what is quite the most fabulous, elite club in existence. No, forget the mile high and welcome to LUVS LGBT+.

The committee this year is formulated from an amazingly diverse group of individuals with whom I cannot wait to see what we achieve. We have many planned events and are always looking for great suggestions and for people to get involved. Some of the past events which LUVS LGBT+ have held include...

- Speeches from various influential people including the likes of Sir Ian McKellen
- The best social events from pub crawls to trampolining to going out in the heart of Liverpool’s gay village
- Opportunities to get involved with various BVLGBT+ events such as the likes of London and Manchester pride where every year they have their own bloc and march for further inclusion and diversity

We are open to all members of the LGBT+ community along with those who simply wish to offer their support, we don’t discriminate and welcome everyone, so pull your socks up and get those party hats on because this is going to be a wild ride of a year!

One of our big focusses this year will be mental health and its’ impact on going through vet school. We are finally making some positive progression to recognising the importance that mental health plays in everyday life, with the combined stresses of being LGBT+ along with studying one of the most demanding degrees there is, we all understand it can become a little overwhelming. We therefore want to be able to provide another outlet in the form of support especially for LGBT+ individuals whom feel they aren’t able to talk to anyone, as I’ve said before, our committee this year is composed of an amazingly diverse group of individuals who all bring something to the group and I hope that our combined experiences can offer guidance to those in need.

So please, come and see us at the vet fresher’s fair on Wednesday the 19th September where you can find out more about how to get involved and meet the committee.

We look forward to meeting you and welcoming you to LUVS LGBT+

In the meantime, keep up to date with us on our blog and social media pages!
