Liverpool Small Animal Veterinary Society

---

Welcome to the University of Liverpool!

We're sure it's been a hard journey for you all, but you've made it! The hardest part of the vet school journey is behind you now, and we are certain that you will enjoy (almost) every part of the next 5 years. It is a huge accomplishment making it here, so make sure to make the most of your time here!

The Liverpool Small Animal Veterinary Society (or LSAVS) is a great place for those who love small animals AND those who want to develop a newfound love for our favourite furry friends. Small animal practice is one of the most popular choices for new graduates, and we want to help to guide you towards a genuine passion for the career!

We host a range of talks across the year about some very interesting topics which promise to entice you with a new interest. Some of the topics we covered in the 2023-2024 LSAVS year are included below...

- The Worldwide Veterinary Service
- Veterinary Acupuncture
- Dog bites
- Mission rabies
- Recent graduate cases
- Hills Nutrition

We also run weekly quizzes on the LSAVS Instagram page (tag below ;) and suturing workshops before the end of year exams to brush up on those critical clinical skills.

Membership is £5 per year, or £15 for your whole vet school journey. Alternatively, you can attend the talks for £2 each. FREE pizza and cookies are provided at ALL talks :)

LSAVS is also currently looking for new members to join our committee with a host of exciting positions available. Psst... these will look great to future employers....

We look forward to seeing you at our events this year!

Dan Wakefield & Isabelle Kingsley

LSAVS Co-Presidents 2023-2024
